COLLEGE OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

The College of Health, Education, and Human Development offers advanced degrees in Administration and Supervision; Counselor Education; Curriculum and Instruction; Educational Leadership; Elementary Education; Human Resource Development; Middle Grades Education; Nursing; Parks, Recreation, and Tourism Management; Reading; Secondary Education; Special Education; and Youth Development.

The PhD degree is offered in Curriculum and Instruction; Educational Leadership; Parks, Recreation, and Tourism Management; and Youth Development. The College also offers professional degree programs leading to the Master of Arts in Teaching; Master of Education; Master of Human Resource Development; Master of Parks, Recreation, and Tourism Management; and Specialist in Education degrees. The College of Health, Education, and Human Development and the College of Agriculture, Forestry, and Life Sciences cooperatively offer a Master of Agricultural Education program.

The graduate programs focus on preparing students for leadership positions in educational, health-care, governmental, and business organizations. Clinical and field experiences are common in many graduate programs. Often programs join with local, state, and federal agencies to provide real-world experiences and research projects for faculty and students. Some programs and courses are offered off campus and in the evening to accommodate the schedules of public school, higher education, health-care institutions, and businesses, and other organizations.

The College of Health, Education, and Human Development offers graduate courses in education and nursing at various off-campus locations across the state. Off-campus course schedules for fall, spring, and summer offerings for school personnel, school districts, and other South Carolina agencies are published by the Office of Off-Campus Academic Programs. In addition, courses are taught by contract with local school districts in the Clemson University service region. Courses are offered in athletic leadership and health to provide electives for students in other areas.

EUGENE T. MOORE SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

The mission of the Eugene T. Moore School of Education is to prepare caring and capable professionals through intellectually engaging experiences in theory, method, and research that connect them to the communities in which they live and serve.

The School of Education trains teachers, counselors, university administrators, and leaders for the P–12 schools and prepares training and development specialists for business and industry.

The School of Education embraces its conceptual framework of providing caring, capable, and connected professionals for the 21st century. These professionals utilize the knowledge of curriculum, technology, assessment, and instructional/leadership/counseling strategies to effect learning for diverse populations. Clemson University provides resources for courses and clinical experiences in method, research, and content knowledge which enable professionals to be reflective practitioners. Such practitioners are knowledgeable, ethical, caring decision makers responding to local, state, and world needs.

Clemson University is accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) and the state of South Carolina for the preparation of educational personnel in South Carolina in Early Childhood Education; Elementary Education; Special Education; and secondary school programs in Agriculture, Biological Sciences, Economics, English, History, Mathematics, Modern Languages, Physical Sciences, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, and Technology Education; as well as Administration and Supervision, Counselor Education, Curriculum and Instruction, and Educational Leadership. The programs in Counselor Education are accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP).

In addition, there is a graduate-level program in Human Resource Development which prepares competent professionals for a variety of education, training, and development settings within industrial, business, and public sector environments. The Eugene T. Moore School of Education has designated a series of courses to meet the growing demand for continual professional development in the state. ED 735 is used for recertification and nondegree purposes.

ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION

Master of Education

Specialist in Education

Master of Education

The Master of Education degree in Administration and Supervision prepares individuals as elementary or secondary school administrators or supervisors. The program provides both a theoretical and field-based foundation in educational leadership with a focus on leading instructional improvement for the benefit of all P–12 students.

Admission Requirements

For admission, individuals must have a baccalaureate degree from a regionally-accredited institution and a minimum of one year of teaching experience. Complete application package should include (1) on-line application, (2) official transcripts from previous institutions (cumulative minimum undergraduate grade-point ratio of 2.70 on the last 60 hours), (3) two recommendations—one from immediate, prior supervisor, (4) current résumé, (5) copy of teaching certificate, and (6) GRE score report of verbal, quantitative, and writing assessments. (Acceptable GRE scores are considered holistically with the student’s background and potential success in graduate school.)

Applicants whose native language is not English must submit TOEFL scores.

If requested by the program coordinator, an interview may be required prior to an admission decision.

Prospective students are encouraged to apply two months prior to the beginning of the term in which they wish to enroll.

Students who anticipate applying to a degree program may not exceed 12 credit hours without program coordinator approval, and enrollment is restricted to the following courses: ED L 700, 715, 730, 735. Nondegree students should consult an advisor before enrolling in any course.

Program Requirements

This program incorporates the academic requirements for certification as a principal and supervisor in South Carolina. Thirty-six hours of graduate credit are required.

Students must complete the following core courses: ED L 710, 720, 725, 730, 745; 750 or 755; 751 or 756. In addition, five courses must be selected from ED F 778, ED L 700, 705, 715, 735, 740, 795.

Specialist in Education

The Educational Specialist degree in Administration and Supervision prepares students as senior-level school administrators. The program provides the academic requirements for certification as a superintendent in South Carolina. Additionally, it fulfills the certification requirements of states which specify the completion of a nationally accredited two-year program of graduate study leading to certification as a school administrator.

Admission Requirements

For admission, individuals must have a master’s degree from a regionally-accredited institution. Students must also be certified as principals or anticipate certification prior to degree candidacy (final 21 hours of the program).

Complete application package should include (1) on-line application, (2) official transcripts (cumulative minimum grade-point ratio of 3.25 on graduate work), (3) two recommendations—one from immediate, prior supervisor, (4) current résumé, (5) copy of teaching/administration certificate, and (6) GRE score report of verbal, quantitative, and writing assessments. (Acceptable GRE scores are considered holistically with the student’s background and potential success in graduate school.)
Applicants whose native language is not English must submit TOEFL scores.

If requested by the program coordinator, an interview may be required prior to an admission decision. Prospective students are encouraged to apply two months prior to the beginning of the term in which they wish to enroll.

Program Requirements
Students must complete the following core courses in sequence within three levels:

Level I—ED L 805, 820, 850
Level II—ED L 810 or 950, and 815
Level III—ED L 830, 839, 840, 850

COUNSELOR EDUCATION
Master of Education
The Master in Education in Counselor Education, a CACREP-accredited program, prepares students in one of the following specialty areas: community counseling, school counseling, or student affairs. Graduate education in the Counselor Education program helps students realize their potential as practicing counselors and higher education administrators, engage in professional relationships, and develop a set of meaningful professional values. To this end, the program reflects current knowledge from lay and professional groups concerning current and projected counseling and human development needs of a pluralistic society. Cultural considerations are emphasized so that the experiences provided will be rewarding and useful in today’s ever-changing society.

The faculty of the Counselor Education program is dedicated to educating and training counselor education professionals to function in culturally diverse settings. This program utilizes an “integrative practitioner training” model emphasizing development, prevention, and enhancement. The programs are designed to provide a challenging, yet supportive, environment that promotes professional orientation, practice, commitment to inquiry, and self-awareness.

Clemson University recognizes laboratory settings and field-based experiences as providing the student with a realistic perspective on the field; an integrating experience for knowledge and skills acquired in the classroom; a situation that maximizes self-awareness, self-direction, and self-evaluation; and feedback on his/her progress and development.

Clemson University acknowledges the importance of close supervision in practica or internship placements as a means of maximizing student training and preventing inadvertent harm to clients. Prac- tica and internships are designed so that the focus and intensity of supervision will change as students acquire competent beginning, intermediate, and advanced skills. The University and site supervisors provide each supervisee with periodic performance and evaluation feedback throughout the supervised experience. At no point is any student to engage in any field-based practica experience without the permission of the major advisor.

Practica require 100 hours and internships, 600 hours of on-site counseling and/or administrative activities, a minimum of one hour of individual supervision per week, a formal log of all activities, and regular meetings with the student’s University and site supervisors.

Each student is assigned a major advisor chosen from the Counselor Education faculty. Students are required to meet with their advisor at least once a semester to ensure appropriate course sequencing.

Upon completion of 33 hours, the student may be given permission by his/her major advisor to take the comprehensive examination. It is the student’s responsibility to have an approved plan of study on file prior to taking the comprehensive examination and to make sure that his/her name is on the list to take the comprehensive examination.

Admission Requirements
Applicants must have an undergraduate grade-point ratio of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale (last 60 hours of undergraduate coursework). Complete application package should include on-line application, GRE scores, a letter of intent, two letters of recommendation, and approval of the Counselor Education faculty via a department interview. Applications for summer and fall admission are due by March 1; for spring admission, October 1. Applications will be reviewed only twice a year.

The Community Counseling Emphasis also requires a minimum of 12 credit hours of psychology and/or sociology, graduate or undergraduate.

Program Objectives—The student will develop respect for the dignity and worth of the individual; develop commitment to the fulfillment of human potential; understand educational and counseling processes; gain knowledge in his/her particular field of counseling; develop competence in the application of professional expertise in counseling; gain knowledge of the role and function of professionals in related fields; develop a commitment to inquiry; and develop maturity in self-development.

Additional information is available at www.hehd.clemson.edu/schoolofedgraduate.htm.

Testing Requirements
Students in all Counselor Education programs take written comprehensive examinations, which are graded on a pass/fail basis. Passing this examination is required for the degree. Upon completion of 33 hours in the program and with the advisor’s permission, students are eligible to take the comprehensive examination. At least two committee members must pass the student. If a student does not pass the comprehensive examination, the major advisor may recommend a second written or oral examination. This recommendation may be during the same semester or in the following one.

If the student fails the written examination twice, he/she will be removed from the program.

Community Counseling Emphasis
Students with an emphasis in Community Counseling will demonstrate an ability to work effectively with community and other agency personnel; an ability to meet qualifications for certification or licensure; understanding and skills related to counseling needs in the environment in which they choose to work; a high degree of self-understanding; an ability to communicate effectively with diverse cultural groups; a knowledge about counseling across the lifespan; human evaluation and research skills; a high degree of sensitivity and acceptance of others’ behavior; an awareness of responsibilities specific to a variety of community agencies; and ethical practices. Additional information is available at www.hehd.clemson.edu/schoolofed.

The Community Counseling Emphasis requires 51 credit hours arranged as follows:

Area of Specialization—42 credit hours: ED C 805, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 818, 821, 822, 823, ED F 701, 778

Field Experiences—nine credit hours of ED C 836, 846. Students must complete 21 credit hours before participating in internship.

Testing Requirements
All Community Counseling students are required to take the Counselor Preparation Comprehensive Examination (CPCE) prior to the administration of the departmental written comprehensive exams. The CPCE is a four-hour, 160-question test, given every semester; and passing it is required for graduation. Students are required to meet with their advisors to discuss their scores and to prepare for the National Counseling Exam. The advisor and student will schedule the written comprehensive exam based on the CPCE scores.

School Counseling Emphasis
Students with an emphasis in School Counseling will demonstrate an ability to work effectively with students, teachers, administrators, and other members of the community as well as a high level of expertise in counseling appraisal, theory, skills, and intervention techniques.

Qualification for state and national certification as school counselors includes an ability to conduct a comprehensive and developmental school guidance and counseling program; a healthy self-awareness and understanding; counseling within the framework of their respective association's legal and ethical standards; ability to counsel with sensitivity, caring, and an appropriate approach in diverse environments; and ability to perform in a consultative capacity both within and outside of the school environment. Additional information is available at www.hehd.clemson.edu/schoolofed.

The School Counseling Emphasis requires 51 credit hours, arranged as follows:

Foundations—six credits: ED F 701, 778
Area of Specialization—36 credits: ED C 801, 807, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 818, 821, 822
Field Experiences—nine credits: ED C 830, 841

Testing Requirements
In addition to successful completion of the written comprehensive examination, students must pass the PRAXIS II Subject Assessment test in School Guidance and Counseling. The score must be reported to Clemson and must be recorded in the students file before certification verification will be sent to any State Department of Education.
Student Affairs Emphasis
(Administration and Counseling)

Students with an emphasis in Student Affairs will demonstrate the ability to work effectively with faculty, students, administrators, and other members of the academic community; preparation for employment in higher education settings in a variety of roles; the ability to act as consultants throughout the higher education setting; understanding and skills related to counseling and developmental needs at the postsecondary level; a high degree of self-understanding; the ability to communicate effectively with all cultural groups; a high degree of sensitivity and acceptance of diversity in thought and action; an awareness of the responsibilities of student affairs practitioners to the developmental needs and maintenance of quality experiences for students, faculty members, administrators, and staff; and ethical practice.

The Student Affairs Emphasis requires 48 credit hours arranged as follows:

Core Courses—27 credit hours: ED C 803, 804, 810, 811, 812, 814, 815, 819, and three elective hours

Field Experiences—nine credit hours: ED C 834, 844

Area of Specialization—12 credit hours as follows:

Student Affairs Practice in Higher Education (Administration)—ED C 806, 809, ED L 765, 855

Student Affairs Counseling—ED C 805, 813, ED F 701, 778

Testing Requirements

Passing the departmental written comprehensive examination is a requirement for the degree as outlined above. All Student Affairs Counseling students will be required to take the CPCE prior to administration of the comprehensive exams.

CURRICULUM AND INSTRUCTION

Doctor of Philosophy

The Doctor of Philosophy degree in Curriculum and Instruction is a research degree that prepares students to become scholars who can discover, and Instruction is a research degree that prepares students to become scholars who can discover, and ethically practice.

The dissertation as directed by the student's advisory committee. Students must maintain a B average in all graduate work. The degree usually requires a minimum of 70 credit hours beyond the master's degree, selected from the areas prescribed by the requirements of the PhD in Curriculum and Instruction. Listed below are the guidelines or normal expectations for a student receiving the PhD degree; however, the final determination of the course of study is made by the advisory committee.

Graduate courses designated for professional development are not eligible to be used toward a graduate degree.

A minimum of three to six hours of internship is required as part of each specialty area. An internship of sufficient time and quality of experiences to warrant three to six semester hours of graduate credit must be planned and executed to the satisfaction of the student's advisory committee.

Specialty areas require 6–18 credits in courses outside the School of Education. This approved coursework is intended to provide a concentration within the specialty area and/or exposure to disciplines outside the School of Education.

Admission Requirements

Complete application package should include proof of a master's degree, official undergraduate and graduate transcripts, GRE scores, a résumé showing relevant professional experiences, and a personal statement of professional history, goals, and aspirations. Candidates passing initial committee review are invited for an interview. Students whose native language is not English must take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). Preference is given to those applicants who score at least 575. Deadlines for admission consideration are October 15 and March 15.

Core Requirement Goals

The student will be able to critically analyze social, historical, psychological, personal, and policy factors in the development and current practices of curriculum and instruction; acquire an understanding of the research processes including practical design, analysis, and reporting; understand how to use historical, correlational, descriptive, and experimental methods within research; be able to analyze critically and evaluate research reports; and be able to prepare scholarly, research-based reports and presentations.

Course Requirements

The Curriculum and Instruction Program requirements are as follows:

Core Courses—ED 954, 955, ED F 875, 908, and six additional credits selected from ED F 870, 872, ED L (ED F) 800, ED L 950, ED SP 853

Research and Assessment Methodology—13 credits: ED (ED F, ED SP) 894, ED F 878, 879, EX ST 801

Specialty Area—27–30 credit hours, including six hours outside the School of Education. Courses vary according to the area.

Internship—three–six hours: ED (ED F, ED SP) 980

Dissertation—18 hours of ED (ED F, ED SP) 991

Elementary Education Emphasis

Students with an emphasis in Elementary Education will demonstrate (1) a research knowledge base of one or more of the academic areas taught in the elementary school with an understanding of how the different areas relate to the learning and instructional needs of all students, including design, implementation, and evaluation of curriculum; effective instructional methods; and current issues and trends affecting teaching and/or learning and (2) competence in basic and applied research and evaluation related to the elementary school, such as curriculum, instruction, and ancillary programs.

The Elementary Education Emphasis Area requires ED (ED F, ED SP) 980, ED EL 937, 938, plus 21 additional credit hours approved by the doctoral committee. A three-hour internship is required.

Reading Education Emphasis

Students with an emphasis in Reading will demonstrate (1) a research knowledge base in the field of reading with an understanding of the relationship to the learning and instructional needs of all students, including design, implementation, and evaluation of curriculum; effective instructional methods; and current issues and trends affecting teaching and/or learning and (2) competence in basic and applied research and evaluation related to the field of reading, such as curriculum, instruction, assessment, and ancillary programs.

The Reading Education Emphasis Area requires PSYCH 833, READ 939, 944, plus 12 additional credit hours selected from READ 884, 885, 886, 887, 937, 938, 940, 941, 942, 943, 945. A six-hour internship is also required.

Secondary Education Emphasis

The PhD program in Curriculum and Instruction with an emphasis in English Language, Mathematics, Natural Sciences, or Social Studies has five possible professional market niches. The student's program for each niche would contain appropriate study in both that subject area and that niche to provide the necessary skills to be a productive professional. These five niches are in English language, mathematics, science, or social studies teacher educator in higher education; a subject-specific curriculum coordinator or curriculum supervisor in a medium to large school district, state department of education, or federal government agency; a teacher of English language, mathematics, science, or social studies in a small four-year or community/technical college; a curriculum developer of secondary English, mathematics, science, or social studies or; an educator of programs in English language, mathematics, science, or social studies in commerce and industry.

English Education Goals—Students with an emphasis in Secondary Education–English will demonstrate a research knowledge base that includes current research in the areas of teaching composition, literary response, language development, developments in English language, and multimedia applications for the English classroom. This will occur within a literary canon that celebrates diversity and competence in basic and applied research and evaluation related to English education.
Mathematics Education Goals—The emphasis area in Mathematics Education will provide students with instruction and understanding in the mathematics curriculum—what is taught, the process of instruction, how mathematics is taught and assessed, the mathematical knowledge of the teacher—so that students may fulfill a variety of professional responsibilities. In addition, students will acquire the skills necessary to read, interpret, utilize, and conduct research in mathematics education in order to expand the research knowledge base and allow students to apply knowledge to specific professional responsibilities.

Science Education Goals—Students with an emphasis in Science Education will demonstrate an understanding of the science education research knowledge base; a knowledge of how science process and content are most effectively learned; familiarity with the components of state-of-the-art curriculum models which are most conducive to learning; and the ability to use the most effective research methodologies designed to expand the theory base.

Social Studies Education Goals—Students with an emphasis in Social Studies Education will develop a knowledge base in current social studies issues, research, and classroom applications and an ability to select and pursue appropriate research topics in social studies.

The Secondary Education Emphasis requires 30 credit hours arranged as follows:

Concentration—18 credit hours of advanced coursework in a discipline or related area

Internship—three to six credit hours

Advanced studies in the teaching of English, mathematics, science, or social studies—three hours from the appropriate area: EDSEC 841, 842, 843, or 844

Current Literature in Education—three hours from the appropriate area: EDSEC 846, 847, 848, or 849

Special Education Emphasis Students with an emphasis in Special Education will (1) demonstrate a research knowledge base of handicapping and at-risk characteristics integrated with an understanding of how these characteristics relate to the learning and instructional needs of individuals in the delivery of effective curricular and instructional, functional interventions; philosophical and social contexts of special and regular education; and legal and organizational context of special and regular education and (2) demonstrate competence in basic and applied research and evaluation, emphasizing special methodological concerns and evaluation of services with individuals with disabilities and at-risk characteristics.

The Special Education Emphasis requires ED SP 930, 931, 932, 933, 934; six credit hours of coursework outside the School of Education; and six credit hours of ED (ED F, ED SP) 980 (Internship in Curriculum and Instruction).

EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP

Doctor of Philosophy

The Doctor of Philosophy degree in Educational Leadership provides students with a strong background in two basic academic areas: educational research and educational leadership. It provides students with competencies and skills needed for effective functioning in a formal leadership capacity in an educational (or related service) organization.

As the highest academic degree granted by Clemson University, the PhD prepares students to become scholars who can discover, integrate, and apply knowledge. Furthermore, the intent is to produce effective administrators. This preparation enables students to understand and evaluate critically existing knowledge in educational leadership. This is accomplished through close association with and apprenticeship to faculty members experienced in research, teaching, and administration.

A student admitted to the Educational Leadership doctoral program must begin coursework within one year from the semester of acceptance or reapply for admission. Students are discouraged from taking more than six hours of doctoral coursework prior to being admitted to the program. (This does not preclude the use of courses completed in the EdS degree in Educational Administration.)

Admission Requirements

Complete application package should include GRE scores, master's degree, official transcripts, three letters of recommendation, and a two-page letter discussing reasons for pursuing the PhD degree. This letter will be used as a writing sample. An interview is optional at the discretion of the selection committee.

Program Requirements

Graduate programs at the doctoral level must maintain flexibility. The program of study will be developed by the student's program committee and will conform with departmental policy requiring a minimum of 76 graduate credit hours beyond the master's degree, including the 18 hours of research project (ED L 991).

Students who have not completed coursework prerequisites for entrance into the program in Educational Leadership must complete such coursework as specified by the program committee. All preparatory coursework assigned by the program committee must be completed before proceeding with the required program.

Distance Education Options—The PhD program in Educational Leadership offers distance education options for both the K–12 and the higher education tracks. Graduate students residing in the Horry County coastal area of the state may be eligible to take K–12 doctoral courses on the campus of Coastal Carolina University in Conway, SC. For the higher education track, doctoral students may be eligible to enroll in classes on a statewide basis through on-line course offerings. In both cases, all requirements remain the same as for the on-campus degree programs, and all courses are enrollment-dependent.

Core Courses—The following 15 credits are required: ED L 900, 905, 910, 989, 990

Concentration—An 18-hour minimum in the K–12 or Higher Education Concentration is required from the following: ED L 765, 805, 810, 815, 820, 830, 850, 885, 915, 935, 950, (VT ED) 955, 960, 965, 970, 972, 976, 980. Other courses may be approved by the department.

Research—Students must complete a qualitative research course (e.g., ED F 879), an intermediate and advanced research course (e.g., EXST 801, ED F 878) and a directed research course (ED L 995).

Cognates

Cognates are courses from another area of study. As a part of the program of study, each student must complete six graduate credit hours in a field outside education. All six hours must be from the same discipline and approved by the student's graduate committee.

Dissertation—A minimum of 18 credit hours (ED L 991) is required for the dissertation.

Internship—All students are required to complete six hours of internship credit (ED L 985).

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

Master of Education

The Master of Education in Elementary Education includes coursework in psychological and sociological foundations, curriculum development, pedagogy, specialized content, and research. The program is intended to strengthen and enhance teaching skills, promote research and reflection on innovative teaching strategies, and expand content knowledge. By examining and reflecting on best practices, students have the opportunity to improve the qualities that make them effective teachers who respond to the emotional, motivational, cognitive, and cultural needs of all students. The use of multiple teaching strategies, lively class discussion, and active student involvement supports learning for all students.

Admission Requirements

A complete application package should include a bachelor's degree, a valid teaching certificate, two letters of recommendation, an undergraduate transcript with a grade-point ratio of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale (last 60 hours), and GRE scores.

Before enrolling in any graduate course, the student should arrange a conference with the major advisor. Courses taken prior to this conference may not be acceptable for the degree. Professional development courses will not count toward the degree. Exemptions to the program of study must be approved by the student's advisory committee consisting of the major advisor and two faculty members from the department in which the student has taken coursework.

Degree Requirements

Graduate students must satisfy requirements for the Graduate School, complete the approved program of study for the degree, maintain a B average in all graduate work, and pass a comprehensive exam. The degree requires 36 credit hours.
When the student has successfully completed 27 credit hours toward the degree, he/she may take the comprehensive examination. The examination will be written and arranged at a specified time each semester.

Psychological and Sociological Foundations—Six credit hours selected from ED L 715 or (ED F) 800; ED F 701 or 702

Curriculum Development—ED EL 760, 804

Specialized Content—ED SP 823, READ 865

Research—ED F 778, 808

Option—Twelve credit hours as follows:
- Elementary Option—Six to nine credit hours of coursework related to specific language arts content taught in the elementary school
- Language Arts Option—Twelve credit hours of coursework related to specific language arts content taught in the elementary school
- Mathematics and Science Option—Twelve credit hours of coursework related to specific mathematics and science content taught in the elementary school

HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT

Master of Human Resource Development

The human resource field is a specialized blend of education, systems design, consulting, psychology, management, and sociology. The Master of Human Resource Development (MHRD) degree prepares professionals to work as trainers/instructional designers, human performance improvement (HPI) specialists, and consultants within business, industry, non-profit, and government organizations.

MHRD/HPI professionals commonly provide diagnostic and intervention strategies related to the areas of technical and interpersonal skills, management, and organizational performance, and motivation. The MHRD program involves and enhances human performance in the workplace. The program is designed for professionals with three or more years of experience and is delivered in an interactive online format. The curriculum consists of 12 courses delivered over a two-year period in a cohort setting. Graduates of the program are capable of utilizing contemporary instructional and human performance technologies and methodologies. Program participants gain valuable skills and knowledge that accelerate their careers.

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the MHRD program follow general admission procedures outlined in the section on Admission in this catalog. Note: The deadline to apply to the MHRD program is July 1. Every required item in support of the application must be on file by that date. The complete application package should include the following: baccalaureate degree with a preferred minimum grade-point ratio of 3.0, transcript, résumé, letter describing professional goals, two letters of reference, and GRE scores.

Applicants must complete the on-line Keirsey™ Temperament Sorter®-II and Campbell™ Interest and Skill Survey®. These assessments are available at www.keirseycampbell.com. (Click on Purchase Here. Use the promotion code CLEMS0323 to have scores for both assessments sent to the MHRD admissions committee. A nominal fee is charged for these assessments.)

Program Requirements

All courses are delivered through distance education technologies. Students need access to e-mail and the Internet and the ability to read a CD-ROM or DVD. Students also need current versions of operating systems, word processing, spreadsheet, and presentation software. Since the required courses involve sending and receiving large files of information, students will need a computer equipped with a Web cam, microphone, and DSL or high-speed internet connection.

The MHRD program consists of 36 credit hours of coursework arranged as follows:

First Year
- Fall Semester
  3 - H R D 820 Human Performance Improvement
  3 - H R D 830 Concepts of Human Resource Dev.

Students must satisfy requirements for the Graduate School, complete the approved program of study for the degree, maintain a B average in all graduate coursework, and pass a comprehensive exam.

MIDDLE GRADES EDUCATION

Master of Arts in Teaching

The Master of Arts in Teaching degree is designed for mid-career professionals who are seeking to change fields and for students with backgrounds in content areas who are not currently certified to teach. The program in Middle Grades Education possesses several intrinsic advantages over other initial certification programs. Most importantly, it places well-prepared candidates in the classroom in a timely manner. An individual possessing a bachelor's degree in a content or closely related field is given an intensive one-year field-based experience. He/she can then expect to start in the classroom as a first year teacher after a full academic year (including summer sessions).

Objectives

The objectives of the Master of Arts in Teaching in Middle Grades Education are to promote the entrance of content-ready individuals into the South Carolina classroom in a timely manner and to provide a rigorous yet plausible route for individuals seeking to change careers and enter teaching.

Admission Requirements

Candidates are accepted based on a combination of test scores, interviews, and academic record. Applicants are expected to take the Praxis II exams in the two content areas in which they plan to receive certification. They are required to have passed one of these Praxis II exams to be admitted to the program.

Program Requirements

The MAT program is offered at the University Center of Greenville. It is composed of three elements: core pedagogical coursework, content coursework, and an intensive field-based component. Core courses are taken by cohort students in a block—two during first summer session, three in the fall, and three in the spring. This includes six hours of Methods Practicum, three in each area of content certification. These six credit hours meet the State’s requirements for student teaching. The remaining 12 credit hours are taken individually in the content areas.

Students in the MAT block begin during the fall semester when public schools begin. They spend the full day in the schools. In the spring, students begin the semester with two weeks of intensive classroom work in the three remaining core courses. These courses are considered “bookend” classes that bracket the student teaching experience. The methods practicum/student teaching includes a portfolio assignment.

The MAT in Middle Grades Education program requires 36 credit hours of coursework, arranged as follows:

- Summer Session I Block Courses—ED F 702, 703
- Summer Session II Block Courses—content courses at the master’s level approved by advisor
- Fall Semester Block Courses—ED 641, ED F 808, and one three-hour methods course
春季学期模块课程——ED SP 823, READ 867, and one three-hour methods course

YOUTH DEVELOPMENT

Master of Science

The Master of Science in Youth Development degree program equips students with the competencies, knowledge, and skills to help young people develop into healthy, competent, coping, and contributing citizens. This program prepares students to address issues facing youth in the context of family and community with an emphasis on positive outcomes through a dynamic learning environment.

The MS in Youth Development program is an interdisciplinary degree primarily involving departments and units in the College of Health, Education, and Human Development but also including academic areas from other colleges and units at the University. This program is designed to meet the needs of students who are also working professionals. All courses are offered in an accelerated format and are delivered through a variety of asynchronous and synchronous distance education technologies. Minimum technology requirements for this program include access to e-mail and the Internet with the ability to read CD-ROMs and DVDs.

This program has a strong relationship with youth-related agencies/organizations and engages them in learning and experiential opportunities for students. The Youth Development program is designed to empower students to focus on strengths and assets within the context of family and community that will promote positive youth development; identify and examine physical, emotional, environmental, and social issues related to being a young person in today's society; prepare professional educators and leaders at all program and management levels for careers in schools, agencies, institutions, and community groups that serve youth; train new and current professionals to be well prepared with increased knowledge and enhanced skills in the youth development area; prepare leaders who will have an immediate impact on youth development in South Carolina and around the nation; link formal and non-formal prevention and intervention youth programs to enhance the learning experience for students; and enhance youth serving agencies and organizations by supplying professionals who are competent in child and adolescent growth and development.

The Master of Science in Youth Development requires 36 semester hours of coursework as follows: EX ST 801, HEHD 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 892, SOC 805.

Admission Requirements

A complete application package should include proof of a baccalaureate degree with a minimum grade-point ratio of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale, an acceptable score on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE), a letter of intent, and two letters of reference. Experience in the field of youth development is preferred.

NURSING

Master of Science

The Master of Science degree program with a major in Nursing builds upon the first professional degree. The student acquires knowledge and skills in advanced nursing: clinical nurse specialist (CNS), nurse practitioner (NP), nursing administration, or nursing education. The student may select one of the following study options: child/adolescent nursing (CNS), adult/gerontological nursing (CNS), adult/gerontological nurse practitioner (ANP), family nurse practitioner (FNP), gerontological nurse practitioner (GNP), nursing administration, or nursing education. Each candidate must complete an independent project to meet degree requirements. All candidates for nonrecreation disciplines are required to develop background knowledge of recreation through undergraduate coursework. All applicants must submit GRE scores.

The Master of Parks, Recreation, and Tourism Management should be selected by individuals who intend to enter or reenter the workplace upon completion of degree requirements. Applicants for the MPRPM degree must document at least three years of full-time relevant professional experience beyond a bachelor's degree in recreation and a 3.0 undergraduate grade-point ratio. Each candidate completes an independent project to meet degree requirements. A minimum of 36 hours of coursework is required.

The Master of Science degree requires a thesis. This degree is designed for individuals planning to undertake doctoral study or seek employment in a research-related position or for those without three years of relevant professional experience. Candidates must complete a minimum of 30 hours of coursework and six hours of research culminating in a thesis.

The Doctor of Philosophy is an advanced research degree requiring performance of original research leading to a dissertation. Comprehensive and final examinations and 18 hours of dissertation research are required. Coursework is determined by each student's doctoral committee.

Admission Requirements

In addition to meeting University admission requirements, applicants should be graduates of nationally-accredited baccalaureate nursing programs; must have had an undergraduate statistics course, computer course, or equivalent; and must demonstrate evidence of current basic client assessment skills. In addition, students must document recent significant nursing practice which is defined as 600 hours during the 12 months prior to acceptance into the program. Nursing Administration majors must complete an undergraduate accounting course.
