Students in the College of Behavioral, Social and Health Sciences seek to understand and organize human behavior in a business, economic, and social context. The College promotes scholarship with broad awareness of the individual, cultural, political, and global levels and develops distinctive leaders in industry, higher education, professional and public service. The College includes the Departments of Communication; Health Science; Nursing; Parks, Recreation and Tourism Management; Political Science; Psychology; Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice; and Youth Development Studies.

All Anthropology, Criminal Justice, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology majors, and other non-majors taking 3000- and 4000-level courses offered by those departments, are required to take a major and course fee that funds infrastructure and program enhancements associated with these majors. The fees are summarized at http://www.clemson.edu/finance/student_financials/tuition_fees/index.html.

Modern Language Requirement
A number of Clemson University degree programs require the completion of a modern language through a specific course level. Modern languages taught at Clemson University or accepted for transfer credit include American Sign Language, Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Latin, Portuguese, Russian and Spanish. While many degree programs accept any of these modern languages for the requirement, certain programs may have specific modern language requirements. Students should consult their program’s curriculum map for details.

BEHAVIORAL AND SOCIAL SCIENCE PROGRAMS
Bachelor of Arts degrees are offered in Anthropology, Criminal Justice, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology. Bachelor of Science degrees are also offered in Anthropology, Criminal Justice, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology. These programs are designed to meet the needs of students seeking a broad general education as preparation for intelligent citizenship, commercial and industrial life, government service, research, and teaching. These curricula also provide an excellent background for the study of law, journalism, and medicine.

To achieve depth as well as breadth in the educational experience, students select a major consisting of courses above the sophomore level. Students also choose a minor consisting of additional credit hours. Students should contact their advisor for additional information and approval before pursuing a minor. See page 93 for a list of acceptable minors.

Students in Bachelor of Arts programs who plan to teach in public schools may elect education courses required for certification by the South Carolina State Department of Education. Such courses are to be approved by their own department advisors.

ANTHROPOLGY
Bachelor of Arts
The Anthropology BA major prepares students for a variety of professional careers related to human resources, international business, public relations, museum and park service interpretation, health services, and other people-oriented positions in the public and private sector. In addition, the degree provides excellent preparation for graduate training in anthropology, law, health care, and business. The degree requires a total of 124-125 semester hours, including 39 credit hours in anthropology as identified below. In addition, students take a modern language and nine additional hours of social science or humanities courses related to Anthropology (from a department-approved list). These additional courses provide students with a greater depth and broader diversity of interdisciplinary knowledge useful for the direct application of an anthropological perspective to potential career paths. Courses used to fulfill General Education Requirements and Departmental Social Science and Humanities courses may be used to fulfill minor requirements.

Students wishing to change majors into the Anthropology BA program must have a 2.0 or higher Clemson/Bridge cumulative grade-point average.

Communication Bachelor of Arts

The Bachelor of Arts in Communication provides a thoroughly integrated yet individual degree program that prepares students for careers in business, government, and public sectors. In addition, the program provides a foundation for graduates who wish to pursue advanced degrees in the humanities, social sciences, business, and law. Through their coursework and extracurricular experiences, Communication majors develop a set of skills in oral, written, and visual communication that enables them to research, design, present, and evaluate messages across diverse contexts and from a variety of platforms, including social media and digital communication technology. Students may change majors into the Communication program based on approval of a committee of faculty from the Department of Communication. The deadline for applying for a change of major during the fall semester is September 15, with decisions made by October 1. For spring semester changes of major, the deadline is February 15, with decisions made by March 1. The Department of Communication accepts a maximum of 30 changes of major per year. To qualify for acceptance, applicants should have completed 15 credit hours including ENGL 1030 and COMM 2030 (with a C or better). All students requesting a change of major must have a grade-point average of 2.5 or higher. An approval form and a writing sample are also required. Detailed information is available from the Communication Department, 408 Strode Tower or the department website: http://www.clemson.edu/cbshs/departments/communication.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE

Bachelor of Arts

The Bachelor of Arts degree in Criminal Justice is an interdisciplinary degree that prepares students for a variety of professional careers related to law enforcement, social services and criminal investigation. In addition, the degree provides excellent preparation for graduate education in criminology and public policy. The major offers two concentrations: the General Concentration and Leadership Concentration. The General Concentration allows students to pursue a science-oriented education while still selecting from a wide variety of course options. The Leadership Concentration prepares students specifically for leadership or management roles in their field. The Criminal Justice degree prepares students for a variety of professional careers related to law enforcement, criminal justice and public policy. The major offers two concentrations: the General Concentration and Leadership Concentration. The General Concentration allows students to pursue a science-oriented education while still selecting from a wide variety of course options.

The Leadership Concentration prepares students specifically for leadership or management roles in their field. The Leadership Concentration degree requires a total of 121 credits, including 39 in relevant courses. In addition, students take 18 hours of math and/or science courses selected from a department-approved list. These additional courses provide students greater scientific literacy on topics relevant to the technical elements of criminal investigations and prepare students for graduate coursework. Courses that fulfill General Education requirements and departmental science and math courses may also fulfill minor requirements.
HEALTH SCIENCE
Bachelor of Science
The Department of Public Health Sciences prepares students for careers in the health field, one of the largest industries in the United States. It includes hospitals and other medical service providers, public health organizations, health insurance companies, health/medical related sales, health fitness organizations, and community and nonprofit health agencies.

Plans of study can be arranged in health promotion and behavior, health services administration, leadership for cardiovascular technology, and pre-professional health studies. Students in the Health Promotion and Behavior Concentration have the skills to assess, plan, communicate, implement, manage, and evaluate public health promotion programs. Students in the Preprofessional Health Studies Concentration obtain the coursework and experience necessary for acceptance into various graduate programs in clinical health professions. The Cardiovascular Imaging Leadership Concentration provides a core of health science classes and training in diagnostic cardiovascular sonography and leadership. The Health Services Administration Concentration allows students to develop skills and competencies in health administration/management for entry-level careers or graduate study in this area. A minor in Business Administration is integral to the concentration. The department, in cooperation with the College of Architecture, Arts and Humanities, also offers a joint Bachelor of Science degree in Language and International Health (see pages 63-64).

Entrance Requirements
To facilitate admission of students who can achieve at an appropriate level in the program, admission is selective. Applicants are reviewed by the Office of Admissions and consideration is given to performance in secondary school and on the College Board Examination (SAT). Those seeking admission are advised to apply to the University early in the fall of their senior year of high school.
Transfer admission is competitive. Students are encouraged to apply early to the Office of Admissions. The University admits ten new transfer students to the Health Science major during the fall semester only. Potential students should have a minimum grade point average of 3.0 and completion of 30 semester hours of transferable courses. Placement in the Health Science curriculum is determined after credit evaluation is complete.

Students may apply to change majors into Health Science with decisions based on available space and approval by the department advisory committee. Applications are accepted in the fall semester beginning on the first day of class with a deadline of the last day of classes. Accepted change-of-major students must be signed into the program by the academic advisor. Minimally, applicants must have a cumulative grade-point average of 2.25 with 49 or fewer earned credits or a 2.5 with 50 or more earned credits. Students with 50 or more earned credits must also have taken and passed the math requirement, statistics requirements and science requirement per the General Education requirements listed in the Undergraduate Announcements. Students are allowed to apply only twice. Detailed information is available in the Academic Advising Center located in 309 Edwards Hall.

LANGUAGE AND INTERNATIONAL HEALTH
Bachelor of Science
The Language and International Health program is administered by the College of Architecture, Arts and Humanities and the College of Behavioral, Social and Health Sciences. See pages 63-64 for the curriculum.

NURSING
Bachelor of Science
The Bachelor of Science degree program in Nursing prepares students for professional nursing practice in a variety of settings, such as hospitals, industry, clinics, and public health agencies. During the first two years, emphasis is on liberal arts and basic science courses arranged to provide a foundation for the nursing major. Junior and senior courses emphasize the study of nursing. Clinical nursing experiences, guided by the Nursing faculty, involve acute and community-based settings. Students are responsible for their own transportation to clinical laboratory experiences, which may extend throughout the Upstate.

Throughout the clinical laboratory period, Nursing majors are required to carry current, valid student nurses' professional liability insurance with minimum limits of liability of $1,000,000 per occurrence and $6,000,000 in aggregate. Documentation of such coverage must be provided to the Director of the School of Nursing. No student may participate in clinical learning activities without this insurance coverage.

To comply with clinical agency contract requirements and South Carolina law, students enrolled in nursing courses with a clinical laboratory must meet specific requirements listed in the School of Nursing Student Handbook at www.clemson.edu/nursing.

The School of Nursing programs are accredited by the CCNE (Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education), One Dupont Circle NW, Suite 530, Washington, DC 20036-1120.

Entrance Requirements
To facilitate admission of students who can achieve at an appropriate level in the program, admission is selective. Consideration is given to performance in secondary school and on the College Board Examination (SAT). Those seeking admission are advised to apply to the University early in the fall of the senior year in high school.

Transfer admission is competitive. Students are encouraged to apply early to the Office of Admissions. The University admits ten new transfer students to the Nursing major during the fall semester only. Potential students should have a minimum grade point average of 3.0 and completion of 30 semester hours of transferable courses. Placement in the Nursing curriculum will be determined after credit evaluation is completed.

Students may change majors into Nursing based on approval of an Admissions Committee in the School of Nursing. Applications are accepted each year during January with a deadline of January 31. Decisions are made by February 28. Change-of-major students will have a start date of the following January into upper division (junior-level) nursing courses. Applicants should meet the following requirements prior to the semester of application: a minimum cumulative grade-point average of 2.75, completion of a minimum of two required sciences in the Nursing curriculum with a C or better. Selection priority is based on grade-point average and number of completed nursing prerequisites. Students are allowed to apply only twice. Information regarding the admission process to the Accelerated Second Degree nursing program can be found on the School of Nursing website.

Detailed information is available from the Academic Advising Center in 309 Edwards Hall or at www.clemson.edu/heid/nursing.

PARKS, RECREATION AND TOURISM MANAGEMENT

Bachelor of Science

The Department of Parks, Recreation and Tourism Management prepares students for a variety of careers in the public, private and non-profit sectors. The curriculum provides broad exposure to the knowledge, skills and abilities necessary to create, manage, lead and operate in organizations, agencies and businesses that provide leisure and leisure-related experiences, services, environments and therapeutic interventions. Students choose from one of five concentration areas: Community Recreation, Sport, and Conservation Area Management (PCAM); Professional Golf Management (PGM); Recreational Therapy (RT); and Travel and Tourism (T&T). These concentrations offer the flexibility to accommodate each student’s career objectives in positions in community recreation, community and campus-based sport/athletics management, event and experience planning and management, commercial recreation and tourism, park and conservation area management, interpretation and management of natural, historic, and cultural sites, rehabilitation services, recreational therapy, programs for people with disabilities, senior citizens or other special populations, camp administration, golf industry, travel industry, resort management, convention and visitor bureaus, conference and meeting planning, and community tourism development to name a few.

The Parks, Recreation and Tourism Management program is accredited by the Council on Accreditation of Parks, Recreation, Tourism and Related Professions (COAPRT). Therefore, our graduates are immediately eligible to apply to become National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA) “Certified Parks and Recreation Professional (CPRP),” a valuable credential for professional development. Students choosing the Recreational Therapy option will also be qualified to sit for the Certified Therapeutic Recreation Specialist (CTRS) certification; and Professional Golf Management students will be in a position to complete the requirements to become a Class A Professional with the PGA of America.

When space is available, a student may change majors to one of the degree concentrations in the Department of Parks, Recreation and Tourism Management with a 2.0 cumulative grade-point average and approval of the department chair or his/her designee. Students are encouraged to speak with a PRTM advisor about changing their major prior to the start of their sophomore year to avoid a delay in graduation due to course sequencing and course prerequisite requirements.

Graduate degrees are based on Master of Science (Thesis option or Online/non-thesis option) or Doctor of Philosophy.

COMMUNITY RECREATION, SPORT AND CAMP MANAGEMENT

CONCENTRATION

The Community Recreation, Sport and Camp Management (CRSCM) Concentration prepares students for careers in community recreation, community- and campus-based sport and athletic management, and camp management by developing theoretical, conceptual, and applied knowledge bases necessary for success in its diverse field. The focus of this program is on community, family, and individual development. Career opportunities include, but are not limited to, community- and campus-based recreation, athletic and amateur sport programming and administration, facility operation and management, special events, fitness/wellness programming, camp management, and non-profit recreation, sport and leisure service administration.

PARK AND CONSERVATION AREA MANAGEMENT

CONCENTRATION

Students in Park and Conservation Area Management (PCAM) prepare for work as park rangers, planners, educators, law enforcement officers, and administrators of our nation’s federal, state, and county public lands that hold unique natural, cultural, and historic resources. PCAM focuses on helping visitors enjoy and appreciate parklands while protecting those resources for future generations. Besides taking coursework in PRTM, students study natural, cultural and historic resources by taking courses in related disciplines.

PROFESSIONAL GOLF MANAGEMENT CONCENTRATION

The Professional Golf Management (PGM) Concentration provides a unique educational background for students who desire to become PGA professionals. Students obtain specialized knowledge and skills which prepare them to become leaders in the golf industry. The PGM Concentration combines academics, career training, and extensive internship experience to develop well-rounded, service-oriented professionals who can meet and respond to the personal as well as business management requirements of golf programs and facilities. Students must pass the Playing Ability Test to graduate with a concentration in Professional Golf Management.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

The Department of Political Science offers two degree programs: a Bachelor of Arts and a Bachelor of Science, requiring 120-121 credit hours. Both prepare students for a wide range of graduate programs and career opportunities. The Bachelor of Arts program provides broad coverage of the political science discipline and emphasizes communication skills and humanities. The Bachelor of Science program is recommended for those with an aptitude for mathematics and/or an interest in political economy, public administration, public policy, or other fields requiring advanced quantitative skills. Both programs are appropriate for pre-law students and for students interested in either American or global politics. Note that the Bachelor of Arts degree requires a minor, and the Bachelor of Science degree requires a field of concentration and, depending on the concentration, requires or allows a minor.

Bachelor of Arts

The requirements for a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science consist of POSC 1100, 1200, or 1300, 1990, and at least 24 additional credit hours in political science at the 3000-4000 level, including at least one course from each of the following fields:

American Government—POSC 4030, 4050, 4160, 4360, 4420
Comparative Politics—POSC 3710, 3720, 4660, 4710, 4760, 4770, 4780
International Relations—POSC 3610, 3620, 3630, 3750, 4290, 4470, 4480
Political Theory—POSC 4490, 4500, 4530, 4550
Public Policy and Public Administration—POSC 3020, 3210, 4210, 4230, 4240, 4300

The student’s additional coursework in political science is chosen with the consent and advice of the departmental advisor to ensure an appropriate balance of breadth and specialization within the field of political science. In addition to the courses listed above, the department offers a wide range of specialized courses in each of the subfields of the political science discipline.

The Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science also requires additional arts and humanities courses beyond the basic General Education Requirements. Note: No more than three hours credit from POSC 3050, 3100, 3120, 3230, 4090, and 4100 may be applied toward a Political Science major.

SOCIOLOGY
The Sociology major offers two degree programs: a Bachelor of Arts and a Bachelor of Science. Both degrees prepare students for a variety of professional careers related to human resources, management, public relations, social services, criminal justice, health services, social research, and other people-oriented positions in the public and private sector. In addition, the Bachelor’s degree provides excellent preparation for graduate training in sociology, anthropology, social services, law, and business. Both degrees require a total of 121 semester hours, including 36 credit hours in sociology and/or anthropology, as identified below. Courses used to fulfill General Education Requirements may be used to fulfill minor requirements.

Change of Major into Sociology
Students who change majors into Sociology must have completed at least 12 credit hours at Clemson and must have a 2.0 minimum Clemson/Bridge cumulative grade-point average.

Emphasis Areas in Sociology
Community Studies—RS (SOC) 4590, SOC 3310, (RS) 4950; and six credits from all courses offered in anthropology or sociology not already taken to fulfill requirements.
Criminal Justice—JUST 2880, 2890; and nine credits selected from ANTH 3530, JUST 3980, 4680, 4910, 4930, 4940, SOC 3910, 3920, 3970, 4860. No more than three hours of SOC 4860 may be taken to satisfy concentration electives.
General Sociology—Three credit hours selected from SOC 3110, 3300, 4320, and 4440; three credit hours selected from SOC 3500, 3510, 3910, 4030, and 4330; and nine credit hours selected from any courses offered in anthropology or sociology not already taken to fulfill requirements.
Social Services—SOC 3800, 4140, (RS) 4950; and six credits from all courses offered in anthropology or sociology not already taken to fulfill requirements.
At least 12 of the total credits must be from 4000-level sociology, rural sociology, and/or anthropology courses; no more than nine credit hours may be taken in courses at the 1000 or 2000 level, except with approval of the department chair. Additional electives are added to meet the minimum of 121 hours required for graduation.

SPORTS COMMUNICATION

Bachelor of Arts

The Bachelor of Arts in Sports Communication provides a thoroughly integrated yet individualized degree program that prepares students for communication careers in the sports industry. In addition, the program provides a foundation for graduates who wish to pursue advanced degrees in sports communication. Through their coursework and extracurricular experiences, Sports Communication majors develop a set of skills in oral, written, and visual communication that enables them to research, design, present, and evaluate messages across diverse contexts and from a variety of platforms, including social media and digital communication technology.

Students may change majors into the Sports Communication program based on approval of a committee of faculty from the Department of Communication. The deadline for applying for a change of major during the fall semester is September 15, with decisions made by October 1. For spring semester changes of major, the deadline is February 15, with decisions made by March 1. Acceptance to the major is competitive and applicants should have completed 15 credit hours, including ENGL 1030 and COMM 2100 (with a B or better). All students requesting a transfer into the Sports Communication major must have a grade-point average of 3.0 or higher. An application form and a writing sample are also required. Detailed information is available from the Communication Department, 408 Strode Tower, or on the departmental website: https://www.clemson.edu/cbshs/departments/communication/

YOUTH DEVELOPMENT STUDIES

Bachelor of Science Degree Completion Program

The B.S. degree in Youth Development Studies is specifically designed as an upper-level degree completion program for professional youth workers who wish to complete a bachelor’s degree in youth development. As such, all classes are offered in the evenings and are delivered online using web-enhanced technologies. Classes are designed to be taken part-time and students are admitted in the fall and spring of each year.

The Youth Development Studies program equips students with the competencies, knowledge and skills necessary to help young people develop into healthy, competent, coping and contributing citizens. Through academic coursework and practical field-based experiences, the program integrates positive youth development theory with practical skills needed to design, deliver and assess intentional and effective youth-serving programs. Studies also prepare students for graduate work in a variety of youth-oriented fields, including programs such as Clemson University’s M.S. in Youth Development Leadership.
The term “youth development” encompasses a specific set of principles and practices that help to mold and shape the successful developmental processes of school-aged youth. These principles include a focus on building and strengthening the assets of young people, and emphasizing the strengths, abilities and potential of youth. Effective youth development programs are exemplified by supportive adult relationships, healthy and stimulating environments conducive to learning and skill attainment, availability of challenging programs and activities, and ample opportunity to engage young people in the process of their own development. Youth-serving organizations include those whose primary mission focuses on youth development, principally for young people and their families, during out-of-school time hours. Examples include afterschool programs; 4-H, YMCA/YWCA, Boys and Girls Clubs; health, fitness and sports programs; organized camping; mentoring programs; programs for children with disabilities; and faith-based ministries.

Program Objectives
The B.S. in Youth Development Studies (1) prepares entry- and mid-career level professional youth development leaders for careers in agencies, institutions, schools, and community organizations that serve youth; (2) enhances youth-serving agencies and organizations by supplying professionals who are competent in child and adolescent growth and development, and who understand the connections between problem-focused and positive youth development approaches to working with youth; (3) educates and empowers students to focus on strengths and assets within the context of culturally diverse family and community structures that promote positive youth development; (4) identifies and examines physical, emotional, cognitive, environmental and social issues related to being a young person in today’s society, and teaches students to provide programmatic and policy solutions to help solve pressing youth issues; (5) provides ethical leaders with skills necessary to effect change in complex and changing environments in their communities, in the State of South Carolina, and across the nation; (6) prepares students to design, deliver and evaluate intentional, outcomes-focused youth programs and services based on national best-practices; (7) creates a community of scholars and practitioners that enhances professional connections in the youth development field, and provides a forum for the development and maintenance of meaningful collaborations and partnerships with diverse individuals, families and community groups; (8) educates students in organizational behavior and how governance and youth development systems work; (9) prepares students to demonstrate flexibility, resilience, adaptability, caring, ethical decision-making and ethical conduct; and (10) connects students to professional development opportunities in youth development for continual growth and lifelong learning.

Admission
Students who have completed a minimum of 60 credit hours, including all Clemson University General Education credits (33 hours) and approved electives (27 hours), are eligible for admission to the B.S. degree in Youth Development Studies. Students must initiate an application to Clemson University as a transfer student, and must have a cumulative grade point average of 2.5 on all prior college coursework to be eligible for admission. All students accepted into the program are required to attend an on-campus orientation program prior to starting the program. The orientation is designed to build camaraderie among students and faculty, as well as to familiarize students with the online learning technologies that are used to deliver the program.

Curriculum
As an upper-level degree completion program, the Youth Development Studies curriculum encompasses only core academic coursework and field experience in youth development and the approved emphasis area. All required coursework, including prerequisite courses, youth development core courses, and approved emphasis area courses, is designed to build a set of core competencies for effective youth work. Required coursework is designed to facilitate the Ten Core Knowledge and Competencies for Afterschool and Youth Development Professionals as outlined by the National Afterschool Association (NAA) and National Institute on Out-of-School Time (NIOST).

Because students have a wide variety of academic and career goals, and because the emphasis area requirements cannot be tracked via Clemson’s degree audit system, detailed departmental advising is vital. Students will select an emphasis area and the courses to fulfill it in consultation with their advisor.

An emphasis area comprised of 12 to 15 credits of online Clemson University courses is required. The emphasis area must be approved in advance, and courses are selected by the student in consultation with an advisor or program representative. Please note that emphasis area requirements cannot be tracked via Clemson’s degree audit system, so detailed departmental advising is vital.
